National Association of Community and Restorative Justice (NACRJ)

Caitlin Morneau
Director of Restorative Justice
Catholic Mobilizing Network (CMN)
Catholic Mobilizing Network

A national organization that mobilizes Catholics — and all people of goodwill — to value life over death, to end the use of the death penalty, to transform the U.S. criminal justice system from punitive to restorative, and to build capacity in U.S. society to engage in restorative practices.
A regional institute affiliated with Bethel College (North Newton, KS), dedicated to resolving human conflict - both locally and globally. Through KIPCOR’s Restorative Schools Initiative, they train and support districts, schools, teachers, and educational personnel in restorative practices. Founded in 1985, KIPCOR is one of the oldest peacebuilding institutions in the United States.

NACRJ advances community and restorative justice as a social movement by serving people and organizations committed to building community and addressing harm. NACRJ provides guidance and support to establish high quality practices with fidelity to restorative principles. It is a membership organization that hosts a biennial conference on Community and Restorative Justice and provides resources for practitioners throughout the United States.
